

Think you know Dario?

You may have heard of Dario – but there's a lot about us you may not know. Here are a few things about us that you may find interesting:

We got our start as a diabetes app with an award-winning glucometer. People loved the simplicity of the device and the ease of tracking their numbers.

For our first 11 years, we sold directly to consumers. We learned what people want and what keeps people engaged in improving their health.

Building on our success, we expanded to include other chronic health conditions that often co-exist including musculoskeletal and behavioral health.

We have leveraged 5B data points to create an intelligent and unique member experience – validated by our 4.9/5 star app rating and 80% retention rate after 1 year.

We have published over 45 research studies – continuously demonstrate that our solutions can improve health outcomes and reduce costs.

We have partnered across the healthcare ecosystem to broaden our reach within different market segments. Our partners include Sanofi, Amwell, Aetna, Dexcom and more.

And there is so much more to our story. We continue to adapt to market needs at every stage and invest in technology and innovation to improve our solutions. To learn more, visit www.dariohealth.com.
